Courtice residents should get first crack at incineration jobs

Tue Feb 05, 2008

To the editor:

I think that if they are going to place a garbage incineration plant in Courtice, they should allow the residents of Courtice first crack at the jobs created by the plant.

It will take a lot of skilled workers to build and run this plant. It will also need clerical help to take care of the day-to-day paperwork.

I am sure that Courtice is teeming with people willing to work in unionized jobs with good steady pay and benefits.

Why should people from Toronto be allowed to say "Not in my backyard" and enjoy the benefits of a good paying steady job?

If Courtice has to have this plant, let's let Courtice residents benefit from the financial gains.
